

Q.No.29. (a) Read the paragraph carefully and answer the Q. No. 1, 2, 3 and 4. Marks (5)

Penguins are interesting birds. Penguins have a layer of fat under their skin which helps them keep warm and serves as a source of energy when there is nothing to eat. Their eggs hatch sixty days after they are laid. The parents take turns to go fishing and bringing food for their chicks in winter. When winter ends and the ice begins to melt, a long procession of penguins trails down to the sea, where they spend the short summer in swimming and saving food.
