

University of Sindh

SU to reopen on January 26 after winter vacation

JAMSHORO: The University of Sindh, Jamshoro will reopen from January 26, 2026 after the winter vacation is over.

According to the details, all academic activities will commence from the very first day of reopening. Classes and other academic engagements will be held as per the schedule without any delay.

According to the SU spokesman, the boys' and girls' hostels will be ready to receive students from January 25, 2026.

He further added that the university point buses will start plying from January 26, 2026, on their designated routes and time to facilitate students commuting from Kotri, Hyderabad, and Jamshoro.

The university administration has directed all concerned departments to ensure necessary arrangements for the smooth resumption of academic activities.